The City of Karratha collects the personal information you provide, including your name, contact details (where provided), and any memories, stories or other content you choose to submit, to facilitate and administer the Community Memory Sharing Project, preserve and document local history, and enable the use of contributions in community, cultural, educational and promotional materials, including publications, exhibitions and digital platforms. This collection is subject to the Privacy and Responsible Information Sharing Act 2024 and the City's Privacy Statement.

By submitting a contribution, you grant the City of Karratha a non-exclusive, ongoing, royalty-free licence to store, reproduce, publish, adapt and use the material (in whole or in part) for these purposes. You confirm that the material is your own, or that you have permission to share it. Contributions may be edited for clarity, length or formatting while preserving their original intent.

Providing information through this form is voluntary. However, if sufficient information is not provided, or if it is incomplete or inaccurate, the City may be limited in its ability to attribute, verify or appropriately use your contribution.

Your information may be used and accessed by authorised City officers and may be disclosed to contractors, service providers or partners engaged by the City where necessary to support the delivery, publication or promotion of the project. We may also disclose information where required or authorised by law.

Information provided to the City is subject to the Freedom of Information Act 1992. You can request access to, or correction of, your personal information by emailing enquiries@karratha.wa.gov.au, or writing to PO Box 219, Karratha WA 6714.

For more information about our privacy practices, please refer to the City's Privacy Policy.
